

Nomads golfers give school for handicapped kids a lift

BORDER and Eastern Province Nomads golfers have again been doing some excellent, much-needed fund-raising.

Following their annual golf weekend at the Fish River Sun, R6 000 was raised for the Nomzamo Special Care Centre in Peddie.

Of that, R3 800 was donated by Fish River Sun (money taken from green fees) with R2 200 coming from the Nomads.

In these not-so-easy financial times, isn't it nice to know that people still care.

Not surprisingly, a number of the Selbornians shed a few tears.

Mick says Barry Turner, former head of the Old Dalian Association, still teases him today about the win.

NIKKI

Border Rugby's loss appears to be Pam Golding Properties gain.

This follows the news that hard-working Border Rugby administrator Nikki Els has resigned and is to join Pam Golding at the end of the month.

The property concern already has veteran Border Rugby administrator Syd Laubscher on their books, as well as former Border Chief financial officer, Chris Gunton whom Nikki is to replace.

KIRSTEN

King William's Town attorney and avid sports fan Malcolm Anderson phoned to inform us of the death of cricketer and batsman, Keith Kirsten.

Malcolm said Keith, an old Dalian, who represented and captained both Border and Eastern Province as well as the SA Schools' XI, deserved to have played for South Africa but the national selectors chose Eric Norton instead for the tour to Australia.

Keith was living in Benoni at the time of his death.

AWARDS

Each month the Sport24 editorial team nominates five performances, plonkers and pictures of the month, then asks their read-